here. He will begin work at once with Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia and the Hon. Frederick S. Gibbs of this State, and not let up until the close of the campaign on the night of Nov. 6. Mr. Manley may go up to Maine once or twice between now and the state elections there in September. He will spend most of his time in this city. He said last night that the national Republicans expected to have a hard fight and a strong fight. Word was received yesterday that Senato Hanna had left his home and was on his way to the Franklin Murphy cottage at Elberon, N. J. where he would arrive to-day. Mr. Hanna will ome up from Elberon to-morrow, and will have a talk with the other campaigners at the national headquarters. He will spend August at Elberon. coming to this city frequently, possibly every av, to attend to his duties as chairman of the National Committee. Mr. Hanna and Mr. Manley will have a talk with Chairman Odell of the State Committee in order that the work of the ommittees may be conducted harmoniously. With the arrival of Mr. Hanna the real work of the campaign will begin here. Up to the present time the clerks and stenographers of the committee have not gone to work, and yesterday Senator Scott, who has charge of the speakers' bureau, had to borrow a stenograer to catch up with his correspondence.

Particular attention is to be paid to spellbinding in languages other than English. There will be German, Italian, Russian, Scandinavian. French and Hebrew speakers to address voters of those nationalities wherever they may be found. One important branch of Senator Scott's bureau will be the speaking throughout the South. An effort is to be made by the Congressional Campaign Committee to carry several districts in which there has not, up to the present time, been a strong effort to oppose the Democracy. The speaking under the auspices of the National Committee will not begin until Aug. 15. In 1896 the -peakers began their tours five days declined to take any part in the present campaign.

"Nobody has been asked to speak yet," said Senator Scott. "I have not heard that Mr. Reed would not speak, and I think it quite likely that he may.

Some of the spellbinders will be Senators Wolcott of Colorado, Fairbanks of Indiana and Thurston of Nebraska, and Gov. G. W. Atkinson of West Virginia. Henry D. Purroy of this city may also be asked to assist.

Mr. Purroy was at one time one of the big men of Tammany Hall, and was elected County Clerk on the Tammany ticket. In 1896 he made up his mind that he could not support the Chicago platform and the candidates who stood upon it, and came out for McKinley and Hobart, believing that the effectual method of curing Democracy of Populism was to beat the party endidates at the polls. This year Mr. Purroy holds the same views that he did in 1896 and consequently he will support the Philad-lphia ticket.

The Hon. Richard C. Kerens, member of the Rapublican National Committee.

consequently he will support the Philadelphia ticket.

The Hon. Richard C. Kerens, member of the R-publican National Committee from Missouri, came to town vesterday and called at national headquarters. Mr. Kerens said that the talk about the voters of the West being scared into voting for Bryan by the cry of "No imperialism" and "No standing army" was foolish. Mr. Kerens said that he thought the result in Indiana would be very close, and that a great deal depended on the action of the Gold Democrats. As to the German vote, he said that the Germans were too sensible to be scared into voting for wildcat money by a lot of ghosts.

Mr. Gibbs has appointed Rush Simms his messenger. Simms is a brother to Caleb Simms, leader of the Tammany Hall negroes of the Eleventh Assembly district.

CLEVELAND, July 25.—Senator Hanna left at 20'clock this afternoon for Elberon, N. J. He will be in communication with the New York headquarters at all times, spending his days in New York and his nights at Committeeman had no advice to offer. He said the Republican had no advice to offer. He said the Republican had no advice to offer.

He may stop off in Cleve-land on his way west, but he will not spend much time here. Senator Hanna was accom-panied by his family.

AUSTIN WILL QUIT IF GRUBER WILL But He Says Gruber Wont and the Conflict in the Twenty-first Goes On.

George C Austin appounced vesterday that he had no personal desire to be the leader of the Republicans of the Twenty-drst Assembly district, and that in order to end the factional fight in the district he was willing to retire from the contest if Col. Apraham Gruber would do the same. Mr. Austin in the statement in which this offer was made recalled the unsuccessful effort made by President Greene of the Republican County Committee to patch up the trouble, and cited the announcement made by Gen. Greene that the County Committee would not aid either side to the controversy, but would recognize whichever of the contestants won at the primaries next month. Then Mr. Austin

"A meeting of the General Election District Committee, consisting of over two hundred members, was held at its clubhouse, 59 West Ninety-sixth street last evening and every district was represented. It was unanimously determined to fight against Mr. Gruber's leadership. The work has been well under way for some time and will be vigorously conducted until Aug. 28. The issue will be plain and simple, namely, whether the enrolled Republicans of the district will indorse Mr. Gruber's leadership and methods. Personally, I have no desire to be leader of the district and am willing at any time to step to one side if Mr. Gruber will do the same thing, and have some new man selected who would be acceptable to the Republicans of the district generally. Mr. Gruber effuses to entertain such a proposition, hence there is no alternative but to continue the contest. Inasmuch as his leadership is condemned by such a large body of Republicans of the district the best party results will never be produced until he is succeeded by some one else. In the interest of the party he should retire. If he will not do so voluntarily, the voters will do it themselves.

He has recently sent out a circular calling for campaign contributions. It has attached to it the names of Frederick P. Simpson as Tressurer and Victor C. Cadieux as Secretary. The circular was sent out without the knowledge of authority of these gentlemen, and, furthermore, Mr. Cadieux has moved out of the district. These were officers of the old campaign committee which went out of existence after the election of 1899. We would ask the Republicans of the district to defer making contributions until after the State Convention will be held on Sept. 4 and contributions can then made to the properly constituted committee. If they are sent in to Mr. Gruber now they are more likely to be used for the August primaries. The object of sending the circular out is now apparent. The campaign will not actively commence until after the State Convention will be held on Sept. 4 and contributions can then be made to the properly constituted committee. If they are sent in to Mr. Gruber now they are more likely to be us Ninety-sixth street last evening and every district was represented. It was unanimously

Hungarian Republican Club.

The Hunzarian Republican Club met last night at its headquarters at 156 Second avenue. The Campaign Committee will be subdivided into several committees. Immediately after into several committees. Immediately after the State convention two meetings a week in the districts where Hungarians and other foreigners abound will be held. The club intends to pay its own expenses and will ask for no contributions from the National or State committees. A list of about all the citizens of the United States who were formerly subjects of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy has been prepared, and to each one a circular letter will be sent. There are about 40,000 such citizens in the country.

Among the correspondence received by Gov. Roosevelt to-day was a letter from Lieut. W. E. Dame of the Tairty-fourth United States Infantry, Col. Howze, now serying in the Philippines. "At present there is no such thing as a Philippine army. It has ceased to exist. Since the first of the year our trouble has been with guerrilla bands left by insurgent officers. Their rank and file are heartily tired of fighting and would gladly return to their homes were it not for the influence of their leaders; and the latter, were it not for the encouragement received from certain elements in the United States, would have thrown up the sponge some time ago. They fully understand the difference between the American and Spanish systems of fighting; also, that they will not be paid to let go. But they hold out in the hote that their friends in the United States may obtain control of the Government at the next election.

"To turn these islands over to the Filipinos would be a crime that would result in anarchy, and every native who refused to Join the insurgents or had aided Americans in any manner would be butchered. They are not capable of government, and a Government of the Filipinos by the Filipinos for the Filipinos would be a farce. It would be a Government of the Tagalogs, by the Tagalogs and for themselves, and if under our protection it would require just as large a force to prevent them fighting among themselves as to hold the island under American control."

In 1896 Lieut, Dame was a delegate from New Mexico to the National Gold Democratic Convention.

LIEUT .- GOV. WOODRUFF BACK

Brooklyn Republicans Assist Him to Shore

-He Wouldn't Talk Politics. There was no race down the bay between the yacht Rialto and a revenue cutter for the glory of bringing Lieut.-Gov. Woodruff up to the White Star pier. He was a passenger aboard the Majestic, which arrived yester day afternoon from Liverpool and Queenstown. Magistrate Bristow and Walter B. Atterbury, it is said, had a permit to take Mr. Woodruff from the liner at Quarantine and bring him up to the city aboard the cutter. There was nobody on the cutter looking for the Lieutenant-Governor. Col. E. E. Britton, Mr. Atterbury and a party of Brooklyn Republicans went down aboard the steam yacht Riaito in the morning and were entertained by Health Officer Doty while waiting for news from the Majestic, which passed in at Sandy Hook at 1 o'clock. Quarantine Commissioner Hugh McRoberts, the Republican leader of Richmond county, joined the boarding party at Quarantine. The party went alongside the Majestic in the Health Officer's steamboat Gov. Flower. The Lieutenant-Governor was transferred from the liner to the Flower which took him to the Rialto, lying near by. He landed at the White Star pier, where his baggage was quickly examined, lie was asked if he intended to make an effort to get the nomination for the Governorship and he said. "I know nothing as to the actual condition of affairs relating to the Governorship and I do not care to talk for publication until I am fully familiar with the political situation. I have been abroad just four weeks and in that time have not been in touch with State politics." Mr. Atterbury and a party of Brooklyn Re

MR. BLAIN IS DONE WITH BRYAN

The "Port Chester Daily Item" Will Not Countenance the Lowering of the Flag. PORT CHESTER, July 25.-The Port Chester Daily Item, one of the most influential Democratic newspapers of Westchester county, in its ssue to-day announced that it had repudiated Bryanism. Editor Thomas J. Blain says that he supported Bryan four years ago under protest, hoping that the leaders would be convinced after one defeat that his doctrine of 16 to 1 was obnoxious to the masses of the people. Mr. Blain is disgusted because the silver plank has been reaffirmed and another more obnoxious plank acided which calls for the hauling down of the American flag. In a leader to-day concerning the platform the Daily Item says:

"It is a long step backward. It means cowardice, weakness and the acknowledgment that the American people cannot deal with the great problems which were left as a legacy from a war undertaken in righteousness and ended in victory. The Democratic party from its birth to the advent of Bryan has always been the party of expansion, and its present position on the question is a complete reversal of the policy of the party since the beginning of the Government. The Daily Item is opposed to the lowering of the Stars and Stripes where they have once been raised." test, hoping that the leaders would be convinced

Paper Trade McKinley Men Astir.

Representatives of all the leading houses in the paper trade met yesterday afternoon at the office of George M. Millar & Co., 62 and 64 Duane street, to organize for McKinley and Roosevelt. The organization, which was formed in 1896, has never been allowed to die, and at yesterday's meeting George F. Perkins was reelected President, Colin Erkhardt was chosen Treasurer and Frank Squire, Secretary. William D. May was elected delegate to the General Committee, elected delegate to the General Committee, which will have charge of the arrangements for a great transfer of business men on Saturday, Nov. 3, similar to the great sound money parade of 1896. Then the paper and allied trades had 22,000 men in line, their representation being second only to that of the dry goods men. The trade club will rent headquarters and carry on a vigorous campaign for the ticket.

THEY'LL TALK FULL-SIZE DOLLARS TO CROKER WHEN THEY MEET HIM. Croker Expected at Democratic State Readquarters To-day-Ex-Governor Stone

Seeking Ocean Breezes and Is Solicitons About the Declaration of Independence. Ex-Gov. William J. Stone of Missouri, vicechairman of the Democratic National Committee. arrived in this city yesterday and said that he was going to one of the beaches to get cooled off by an ocean breeze. He said that Chairman James K. Jones would get to town some day this

Gov. Stone remarked that he was "in favor of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and the American flag." He said that in past campaigns the Republicans had adopted the flag and had used it to such an extent that a good many people had got the impression that it was the Republican emblem. Mr. Stone said that it was his desire to correct this impression and that he intended, if he had his way, to have a Democratic flag float side by side with every Republican flag that was holsted between now and

Nov. 6. Gov. Stone would not say anything about Bryan's chances further than that he expected Bryan's chances further than that he expected to see Col. Bryan make a strong fight all along the line. He would not tell which of the beaches he was going to. Richard Croker, leader of Taramany Hall, has been spending a great deal of his time lately down at the Brighton Beach Hotel, which is convenient to the racecourse. It was suggested that Gov. Stone might go down there and that Senator Jones might follow them, and that the three would find Brighton Beach a cool place in which to talk politics. Mr. Stone wouldn't tell whether the Democrats intended to establish an important headquarters here, or who would have charge of their work in this part of the country. Democratic State Committeeman Frank Campbell got in yesterday from his home in Bath and announced that he was not a rainbow chaser. At the State headquarters in the St. James Building he suggested that persons who wanted information as to the probable outcome of the campaign take a trip up the State and study local conditions for themselves. Mr. Campbell will be in town to-day and it is expected that Richard Croker, Corporation Counsel John Whalen and Chairman James K. McGuire of the Executive Committee will be there also to have a talk. Mr. Croker is looked to by the State Committee to help them out in the matter of campaign funds. Tammany has got a barrel of money this year and the State Committee, as well as the National Committee, want some of it.

The up-State Democrats are organizing this year by school districts as they did in 1898. School districts are smaller than the Assembly districts and the State leaders believe that by using them as the unit of organization they are able to get in closer touch with the voters. It is understood that none of the State campaigners will make any reference to 16 to 1 in their speeches but like Tammany Hall will ignore it atterly. to see Col. Bryan make a strong fight all along

BRYAN'S LABOR DAY PLANS.

May Speak in Chicago, Where Roosevelt Is

LINCOLN, Neb., July 25 .- Although Mr. Bryan will neither affirm nor deny it, it is believed here that he will accept the invitation from the Labor leaders of Chicago to deliver the annual Labor Day address in that city. An invitation was sent to him some weeks ago, at the same time that one was mailed to the President. Mr. Bryan hesitated about accepting it. The labor situation in Chicago is quite involved, and while Mr. Bryan was anxious to prove to the laboring men his sympathy and support, he did not act until after he had consulted with the local leaders in Chicago, and after the project had received the sanction of the National Committee. Mr. Bryan said to-day when asked about it that he must be excused from discussing any plans. He did say that he expected to be in Chicago on Aug. 30 or 31 to attend the Grand Army Encampment. The concluding section of his letter accepting that invitation is taken as proof that he means to be there three days later, on Labor Day, and that the certainty of Roosevelt being there will not interfere.

C. A. Towne appears to be lost. No one at Populist national headquarters here seems to know where he is. Chairman Edmisten says he is expecting to hear every day from him. Secretary Edgerton said the last he heard of Towne he was in Nevada. As to whether anything had been received from him as to his withdrawal he said:

"Mr. Towne is the sole authority in regard to the matter and he had the subject under consideration when last heard from. The National Committee will await his decision. It has no desire to interfere. The impression has gone forth that the Populist National Convention instructed the National Committee to place a Populist on the ticket in case Mr. Towne should withdraw. That impression is incorrect. A resolution of that kind was introduced in the Washburn compromise, but was voted down. The National Committee has full power in the matter. It may put on a Populist or it may leave the place blank. There was no specific instruction as to what it should do.

MAYOR MAYBURY FOR GOVERNOR. Dodger on the Money Question Nominated by the Michigan Democrats.

DETROIT, July 25.- Daniel J. Campau, the Democratic National Committeeman from Michigan, and apparently the boss of the free silver, anti-progressive party, received a set-back to-day that will not please him. Privately he had endeavored to prevent the nomination of William C. Maybury, Detroit's Mayor, for the head of the Democratic State ticket. Up to last night he pretended that he did not care who was nominated, so long as the party was satisfied. He said that he was keeping his hands off the struggle. Last night, however, his lieutenants began work against Detroit's 'champion joilier and baby kisser," both of "champion joilier and baby kisser," both of which are Mayor Maybury's "long suits," and tried to sway the convention against Mr. Maybury and in favor of Wellington R. Burt or "some other good man." He had the aid of such men as Tom Barkworth, ex-Congressman Edwin Hennessey, ex-Police Commissioner George P. Hummer, the Holland pet, and Charlie Hampton. He lost his fight early in the atternoon when he falled to force an adjournment until to-morrow, and on the first ballot led the Democratic horde in climbing into the Maybury band wagon. led the Democratic horde in climbing into the Maybury band wagon.

The candidate, Mr. Maybury, has always fought shy of expressing himself on the silver question, gracefully dodges betwit imperialism and 'necessary progressive expansion' and is very happy in his status of occupying no definite position. He even went out of the State last night so as to avoid being forced to make a speech of acceptance before the delegates.

BRYAN FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR. Nebraska Gold Democrat Says Preparations

Are Being Made to Select Him. INDIANAPOLIS, July 25.-Euclid Martin, mem ber of the National Gold Democratic Committee from Nebraska, said to-day that the fusion elements in that State were preparing to send Bryan to the United States Sonate if he were defeated for the Presidenc, and that the lines have already been thrown out in that direction. The Nebraska Legislature will elect two senators next winter and it is conceded that Allen will be one of them and Bryan the other, if he is defeated for the Presidency Mr. Martin thinks there is no doubt about the fusion element controlling ithe Legislature on joint ballot and he believes that Bryan will carry the State.

COL. STRONG FOR PAYNE OR ODELL. Would Run for Governor Himself if a Loud Call Should Develop.

Thomas C. Platt sa: yesterday that as the Republican St te C. vention is still six weeks off it was too early to make any predictions as to nominees. It was suggested o Mr. Platt that a majority of the Republicans in all parts of the State seem to want Chairman Odell of the State Committee for their candidate. Senator Platt said that he could not make any predictions at the present time. Ex-Mayor William L. Strong, being approached by the Evening Post, said yesterday that some weeks ago several of his friends approached him and asked him to become a candidate for the nomination. Col. Strong told his friends that all the support he would get would be local and that the Republicans had better select some candidate who would have a strong pull up the State. Personally Mr. Strong said he would like to see Col. Sereno E. Payne nominated, but he regards Chairman Odeil as a very strong man and will support him enthusiastically if he is nominated. Of his own candidacy the ex-Mayor said he did not think that Senator Platt would be willing to accept him. Then he was asked if he would accept the nomination if there appeared to be a general desire for him to do so,

"There are only thirty-nine days left before the convention." said Col. Strong. "The dedidate. Senator Platt said that he could not him to do so, I think he is even more dangerous than the platform he is on. I am against any man now and for all time who attempts to cheapen the price of the dollar we have now. Don't talk about Bryan to me. I get hot in the collar every time I hear his name mentioned."

a big banner in North street, near the Tom Paine monument. There were 500 Democrats present. The Free Silverites had invited Mayor Michael J. Dillon to address them. They were dumfounded when the Mayor at the very outset of his speech declared:

"Gentlemen, the silver question is dead. Of course, it was in our old platform, and we had to reaffirm it. The Republicans are using it as a scarecrow to get your votes."

The Silver Democrats, felt a chill creeping down their spines and some of them were at the point of interrupting the Mayor, when he took another tack and sailed off after trusts and imperialism. At the close of his address Mayor Dillon introduced Mrs. Green, a widow 75 years old, who, it is said, may be engaged to stump the State for Bryan.

WANT TO BET ON KEAHON. Seventh District Partisan Offers $300 for Even $3,000 Wager.

The Keahonites in the Seventh Assembly district announced yesterday that Edward Houghton, proprietor of the Houghton Hotel at Eighteenth street and Seventh avenue had $3,000 to bet that ex-Alderman Kenhor had $3,000 to bet that ex-Alderman Keahon would defeat East River Bridge Commissioner James W. Boyle for the Tammany leadership of the district next month. They said that Mr. Houghton wanted to bet the money even and that he would pay 10 per cent, to any one who would get Boyle money to cover it. Alderman Culkin, who has a shop at 45 Eighth avenue, has informed his friends that he has $2,000 which he is anxious to bet even on Keahon. Keahon.

ormer State Chairman of Kentucky Wants osevelt to Hold a Great Mountain Meeting-Visits McKinley to Get Him to Persuade Roosevelt to Go Campaigning There. CANTON, July 25 .- "There never was as good chance to make Kentucky Republican as this rear. We are going to carry the State for the McKinley Electors and we are going to elect Yerkes Governor and Judge Oreal to the Court of Appeals, and, I believe, all of the other State candidates with them." Thus spoke Sam J. Roberts of Lexington, former Kentucky State chairman, to-day soon a ter a conference with President McKinley. Mr. Roberts was accompanied by Judge E. C. Oreal, the candidate for the Court of Appeals. The latter added to Mr. Roberts's forecast his belief that the Republicans would carry four Congress districts, which would be a gain of two; that they stood a good chance of carrying two others, and that in some of the strongly Democratic districts they would secure friendly members by fusion with anti-Goebel Democrats. "On what do you base these expectations?"

was asked. "We have nominated the very strongest candidate for Governor and the Democrate have nominated the very weakest. The leading Democrats of the State virtually admit this. They said in their convention that if Beckham, the beneficiary of the Goebel law, was the candidate he would weaken the party because of didate he would weaken the party because of the general aversion to that partisan law. The same aversion will make strong the Republican jud, cial candidates."

"On what lines and on what issues will you make your campaign?"

"Largely on local matters; on the Goebel Election law. Our people are thoroughly aroused over that intamous measure and the feeling is strong that there is no use to fight for anything else until that is blotted out, for if they did you on other measures, their voice would not be honestly counted so long as that law remains in force. Of course we will not slight or ignore the issues of the national platform, but from the very nature of the situation they will not be the most conspicuous in our State. I do not think the money question will enter into the contest to the extent that it did four years contest to the extent that it did four contest to the extent that it did four years ago."

"What will be the nature of your campaign?"

"We will have much peaking, big rousing meetings and good club organization. One of our plans which we are trying to advance is to secure the assistance of Gov. Roosevelt, not only for the one or two meetings he will naturally hold in the State, but for a big demonstration up in the mountains. The Governor will especially appeal to the people of that region. They admire his rough riding experiences, his ranching and his hunting. They feel that they have much in common with him, and he can stir them more than any other man. Our idea is to have Roosevelt go up into the country twenty-five or thirty miles from the railroad and hold a meeting. The people will come in from ten or a dozen counties, most of them on horseback, and they will have a procession miles in length. With Roosevelt as the speaker they will have such a meeting as was never before held." To have President McKinley aid them in securing Roosevelt for such a meeting is one of the objects which brought the Kentuckians to

COLD WATER CANDIDATES SPEAK. Prohibition Candidate forVice-President Met-

calf Notified of His Nomination. Henry B. Metcalf, who was nominated for Vice-President on the national Prohibition ticket at Chicago, was officially notifled of his nomination at Carnegie Hall last night. The speech of notification was made by Dr. Samuel Dickie of Michigan The other members of the committee who were present were W. W. Smith of Poughkeepsie, Alva H. Merrill of New Bedford and Smith Quimby of Providence. I. K. Funk of this city called the meeting to order and then introduced the Rev. Dr. Date of the People's Church, who the Rev. Dr. Date of the People's Church, who offered a prayer.

Mr. Funk then made a brief speech, in which he said that while the Prohibition party shared with the members of other parties the general interest in the great questions of the day, it believed that its first duty was to smash the saloon power. After it has done that, said Mr. Funk, it will have time to devote to other questions. Oliver W. Stewart, Chairman of the Prohibition National Committee, spoke next. He said that the Prohibitionists were constantly being accused of devoting themselves to state questions. In his opinion, he said, the liquor question is a national one and the most important one now before the people of the country. One of the first duties of the Prohibition candidate, if elected, he said, would be to instruct the Attorney-General to abolish the canteen in the Army. The man who votes for McKiniey, he said, votes for the canteen, while the man who votes for Bryan does practically the same thing, as iryan has never come out with a statement which would indicate that he would abolish the liquor traffic in this country or the Philippines.

Mr. Dickie then made the speech of notifica—induor traine in this country of the speech of notifica-pines.

Mr. Dickie then made the speech of notifica-tion. "We are here to-night" he said, 'to throw the gauntiet down to the saloon parties and to destroy their influence. We cannot find a Republican or a Democrat who is not on good arms, with the saloon. Consequently we cannot a Republican or a Democrat who is not on good terms with the saloon. Consequently we cannot deal with either party or hope for anything from them. The church is marking time; it is going through the motions of heiping our cause, but is doing little. We expect that at least 500,000 people will vote for Woolley and Metcalf and we want people to know that we are just as piucky, just as determined and just as hopeful as ever.

we want people to know that we are just as piucky, just as determined and just as hopeful as ever."

Dr. Dickie then officially notified Mr. Metcalf of his pomination. In response, Mr. Metcalf said that it was the first time in his life that he had been the recipient of such high honor. He regarded it as such an opportunity for doing his duty to God and to man that he had no right to refuse it, and consequently accepted.

"I think our platform will win us many votes," said Mr. Metcalf. "The truth is mighty and must prevail. I shall do all in my power to make those who believe as we do so loyal to their convictions that they will dare to go to the polis and express themselves as they believe."

John G. Wcolley, the Prohibition candidate for President, was present and made the closing speech of the evening. Mr. Woolley made an attempt to abuse President McKinley, but was not very successful.

"We may not elect our candidates," he said, "we may not so her as single drunkard, but there is one thing that we can do and that is to stand beneath the fold of Old Glory and demand that she be taken out of partnership with the liquor traffic. Wemust remember that, after all, our fight is more of a spiritual fight than anything else and we are fighting something more than the White House and the man in it. What we want to see is the time when Old Glory will get to be Old Honesty, too."

It was announced at the close of the meeting

too."
It was announced at the close of the meeting that William T. Wardwell had been nominated for the Governorship at Utica and that a campaign fund of $5,000 had been raised in that city. The announcement was received with enthusiasm.

The Weather.

An area of low pressure was passing yesterday over northern New York and northern New England into the St. Lawrence Valley. The trough of depression extended southwest over the Ohio Valley and Tennessee into Arkansas. There was a belt of showers and thunderstorms over all that area and reaching far into the St. Lawrence Valley. The rainfall was generally heavy, measuring more than an inch in parts of northern New York. Thunderstorms prevailed in northern Texas and southern Florida. Elsewhere the weather was generally fair, except this section, where it was cloudy and humid. It was warmer in all the Atlantic States north o Plorida and in the extreme Northwest, but it was growing rapidly cooler over the upper Mississippl Valley and Lake regions, and it should be coole In this city the day was cloudy and sultry, with thunderstorm at sunset; wind fresh, southerly to vesterly; average humidity, 75 per cent; baron

FUSION TICKET IN KANSAS.

Six of the Candidates Are Populists, Three Are Democrats and One a Silver Republican FORT SCOTT, Kan., July 25 .- The Kansas Dem ocrats, in State Convention here to-day in order to effect a fusion with the Populists and Free Silver Republican State Conventions, retreated ignominously from the determined stand they had taker relative to yielding the nominat on of Associate Justice to the ultra anti-railroad man whom the Populists demanded, namely Judge David Martin of Atchison. In con ideration of this con cession they took the nomination for Attorney-General. It was a bitter position for the average delegate in the Democratic Convention, as demonstrated by the protest that went up when it was announced before the session opened that the Conference Committee had agreed upon such a division but National (committeeman) the session opened that the Conference Committee had agreed upon such a division, but National Committeeman Johnson, State Chairman J. Mack Love and other apostles of Bryan succeeded in swinging the convention into line. John W. Briedenthal, the present State Bank Examiner, was nominated for Governor by acclamation.

The fusion ticket agreed upon by the three conventions is as follows:

Associate Justice. David Martin (Pooulist of Atchison; Governor, John W. Briedenthal (Populist) of Labette; Lieutenant-Governor, A. M. Harvey (Populist) of Topeka, Treasurer, Conway Marshall (Democrat) of Anderson county; Secretary of State, Abe Frakes (Democrat) of Trego county; Attorney-General, Hugh Farrelly (Democrat) of Chanute; Auditor, E. J. Westgate (Populist) of Finney county; Congressman-at-Large, J. D. Botkin (Populist) of Cowley county, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Levi Humbarrer (Populist) of Abilene: Superintendent of Insurance, Webb McNall (Free Silver Republican) of Topeka.

Ten Bryan and Stevenson electors were chosen.

CAPT. GEORGE J. GODFREY'S DEATH. A Letter From the Philippines Gives Detail

of How the Officer Was Shot. One of the sisters of Capt. George J. Godfrey has received a letter from Lieut. Burton J Mitchell of Gen. Funston's Volunteers, giving details of the death of Capt. Godfrey in a fight in the Bulucan Mountains in the Philippines on June 3. Lieut. Mitchell writes from San Isidro on June 5. He says: "I was with your brother the morning of his death. Gen. Funston, Troop G, Fourth Cavalry, and myself were in the mountains about twenty-five miles southeast of here, chasing the band who had captured Capt. Roberts and two soldiers of the Thirtyfifth Infantry on May 29. They retreated three miles into the mountains, where we again at-tacked them in the afternoon, and after trying miles into the mountains, where we again attacked them in the afternoon, and after trying for nearly two hours to dislodge them, we were compelled to withdraw on account of the intense heat and the fact that we were nearly out of ammunition. We sent to San Isidro for two companies of infantry, your brother's being one.

"After breakfast we started to the place where we had the fight on the afternoon of May 31, and reached there just after daybreak. We immediately attacked them and found only an outpost of six men, who retreated some two miles further into the mountains and joined the main body. Capt. Godfrey's company was in the lead when we struck the enemy about 70 clock. They opened on us from two rifle pits at once on top of two mountains. They were not over 150 yards distant. Capt. Godfrey immediately deployed his advance guard, dismounted, and called his striker to take his horse. At that instant he fell, shot through the heart with a Mauser bullet. He was killed instantly, and never suffered any pain or uttered a word. The fight was a furious one and lasted half an hour. One of the soldiers of Capt. Godfrey's commend. Private Eskridge, was also killed. The bodies were taken to Maniia and embaimed, and will no doubt be sent to the United States shortly.

The death of Capt. Godfrey was made the subject of a general order by Major Baldwin of the Twenty-second, in which he says: "As victory crowned the combat, he gave for the flag the life that he had dedicated to his country. He sought no preferment through avenues foreign to the service. In the civil administration of Pueblo, to the misguided native people he extended the hand of fellowship and led them along the path of civilization. Into the unspeakable grief which now moves the hearts of those who dwell in our distant native land we dare not enter. In silence the regiment stands and mourns with them for our brother." regiment stands and mourns with them fo our brother A copy of Major Baldwin's order reached Capt. Godfrey's family yesterday.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Mary L. Bonney-Rambaut, who was well known in educational circles in the United States, died on Tuesday in Hamilton, Madison count, New York. She was born there June 8, 1816. She came of Revolutionary stock and her grandiather. Abel Wilder of Chesterfield, Mass., stood at the side of Gen. Warren when he fell at the battle of Bunker Hill. Her father served in the War of 1812. Miss Bonney's mother had been a teacher before her marriage and her daughter took up that work after she graduated from the Troy Female Seminary in 1833. In 1850 she established the Chestnut Street Female Seminary in Philadelphia and was associated in the control with Miss H. A. Dillaye at one time a teacher in the seminary at Troy. For thirty-three years the school was one of the foremost in the country. In 1855, with three of her former teachers as associates, Mrs. Bonney-Rambaut founded the well known Ogontz School for Young Ladles near Philadelphia. In 1888 Miss Bonney retired from active work and while in London as a delegate to the World's Missionary Convention was married to Dr. Thomas Rambaut, an old friend who had at one time been prominent in educational affairs. He died two years later. Mrs. Bonney-Rambaut, in addition to her great success as an educator, exercised always a powerful influence in missionary affairs. She was first a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church, but later in life became a Baptist and worked actively in behalf of the North American Indians. The Women's National Indian Association was the result of her efforts and its potent share in securing the new and improved policy of government expressed in the Dawes Indian Beveralty bill has always been recognized.

MYSTERY IN TATE'S SUICIDE. Unknown Woman in the Case-Tate Had Con-

tracts Under Waring. Herbert Tate, who shot and killed himself in Malden, Mass., Tuesday afternoon, was well known in New York, where during Col. Waring's term as Street Cleaning Commissioner of this city he gained considerable notoriety because of the number of contracts he secured. At Malden he lived with a woman who, he said, was his wife. There was also a child which went by his name, but they kept so much to themselves that the neighbors and tradesmen with whom they dealt knew little of their identity. To some Tate was known as Francis H. Tate and to others as Francis H. Caet. This accounts for the confusion in the despatches from Malden telling of his suicide.

Up to a year ago Tate's residence was New York and had been for several years. He was originally from Florida. His father is Judge Tate of Pensacola. His wife is now living in Pensacola and if his friends there and here knew of his entanglement with the woman with whom he was living in Malden they refused yesterday to tell about it. Tate has a brother, Walter, who is connected with the brother, Walter, who is connected with the firm of Arthur N. Pierson & Co., dealers in clay piging in the Clarke Building at Ann street and Park row. The brother yestarday refused to say anything about Herbert's death.

When Col. Waring became Street Commissioner, Tate, who had been associated with him in various engineering enterprises, came in tor such a fat bunch of contracts that much talk was caused, but Waring stuck to him, and when Comptroller Fitch held up some of Tate's vouchers Waring made a fight for him and got him his money. In the winter of 1805-96 Tate had the snow contract and he tried for it in later years, but was underbid. He, however, landed the "paper chasing contract," which permitted him to trim the garbage soows and utilize the light refuse. He had had this for three years, through the City Waste Disposal Company of 156 Flith avenue, of which he is the controlling spirit. A year ago Tate moved his headquarters to Boston, where he was President of the City Refuse Utilization Company, which was about the same kind of a concern as the City Wastes Disposal Company, the same men headquariers to Boston, where he was President of the City Refuse Utilization Company, which was about the same kind of a concern as the City Wastes Disposal Company, the same men being interested in it. He, however, kept an office at 21 East Twentieth street, where he rented desk room from William T innes, a real estate agent. Much of his mail, even that from Peneacola, came there and was forwarded by Innes to Boston. Tate came often to New York, sometimes once a week. He had formerly lived at 35 West Twenty-fifth steect with a friend, Horace Walker, who still lives there. The supposed Mrs Tate in Malden gave Walker's name to the police and they telegrathed him. It was said yesterday at the Twenty-fifth street house that Walker nad gone to Maiden.

Very little could be learned concerning the woman in the case. Innes refused to talk about it. He said he knew Tate had a wife in Pensacola, but about the other woman he knew nothing. He said he knew of no reason for Tate's act, as his finances were in good condition. Capt. Gibson, Deputy Street cleaning Commissioner, who knew Tate well, said he did not know anything about the woman, but in his opinion Tate's suicide must have grown out of his entanglement with her, as there was no other cause for his act. Capt. Gibson said he had been expecting a telegram all day that would throw some light on the tragedy. It had not come, but he thought he would surely have news to-day.

Besides Walter Tate the suicide had two other brothers, Dexter Tate, who travels brothers, Dexter Tate, who is in business in Tampico, Mexico, and Sterritt Tate, who travels for a business house in Georgia. He had no children. It was said yesterday at Walter Tate's office that the body would probably be sent to Pensacola for interment.

Assemblyman Stewart to Retire.

Assemblyman Perez M. Stewart of the Nineteenth Assembly district, who was elected has fall over Robert Mazet by a combination of the Tammany and Citizens' Union forces in the district, has informed his friends that he will not be a candidate for the office again. Stewart was accepted by Tammany for the purpose of knocking out Mazet and Police Commissioner John B. Sexton, and his friends have no particular further use for him.

The Citizens' Union Central Committee has sat down on the men who want to mix it up in the campaign this fall. Mr. Price the Citizens' Union chairman in the Nineteenth, who is also a member of the Central Committee, suggested at the last meeting of that body that the district organizations be allowed to take part in the district contests. The members frowned so hard that Mr. Price's boots came near falling off. The committeemen told him that it was the plan of the organization to avoid entangling alliances this year, so that there would be no sore spots in 1901, when they hope to get up an anti-Tammany union.

Smith was near the bathing pool this morning watching Mrs. J. L. Buggeman, who is one of the best woman swimmers here. She was in the best woman swimmers here. She was in the gool and Thomas Richards, 8 years old, asked her to take him across on her back. The boy can not swim. The pool is about ten feet deep. Mrs. Buggeman and the boy made the trip safely but on the return his weight proved too much for her and she tegan to struggle. Smith plunged in and reached her side in time to grab her before she sank, but it was no easy matter to save the struggling woman and at the same time prevent the boy from drowning. Mrs. Buggeman recovered her presence of mind after a time and both woman and child were brought safely ashore.
